Summary

Emily has an extensive background in both Musical Theatre and Modern choreography. She's seen success time and time again in getting dancers to find the right qualities of movement and executing them at the exact right times. Her passion for choreography seeps into her teaching and the excitement of creating visual wonders tends to rub off onto her students. Miss Emily has a knack for teaching in ways that are clear and easy to understand, as well as putting varieties of story-driving emotion and qualities of movement into her choreography.
